

ANTIMICROBIAL PEPTIDES ISOLATED FROM FISH

Abstract

Antimicrobial peptides (endobiotic peptides), isolated from fish are described.
5 Such endobiotic peptides may be isolated as 22 amino acid peptides having molecular weights of about 2500 Da from the gills of hybrid striped bass (Morone saxatilis x Morone chrysops). Antibodies that bind such peptides and methods of using such peptides are also described.

10 doc. 207530

09/29/88 08:40:10